

POPE PROPOSES PEACE TO WORLD

Allies Are Suspicious That It Emanates From Austria

To the warring nations of Europe has come another appeal for peace from Pope Benedict. The foundation stones of the plan of the pontiff for world tranquility are: Reduction of armaments, settlement of international disputes by arbitration and freedom of the seas and that there shall be no retaliatory struggle after the war for the world's commercial supremacy. The proposals to the belligerents unofficially reported are said to include the restoration of Belgium, Serbia and Rumania. The questions of Alsace-Lorraine, Trent, Trieste and Poland it is suggested can be adjudicated pacifically. The Pope's plans also call for the return to Germany of all her colonies taken since the war began.

China Enters War.

In July, 1915, Pope Benedict made his first official peace proposal. At that time the pontiff insisted that all friends of peace join him in a desire to bring to an end the dreadful hostilities. Almost simultaneously with his latest appeal China enters the ranks of the belligerents by formally declaring war on Germany and Austro-Hungary.

Allies Going a Little.

No great changes have taken place in the battle fields of Europe. Northeast of Ypres, in Flanders, British troops have forced German posts to retire across the Steenbeke river, which lies east of the Ypres-Thorout railway in the region of Langemarck. The British held all their gains and re-established their line on the east bank of the river. Elsewhere, from the coast to Saint Quentin, the artillery fighting has increased in some sectors and the British have carried out a number of surprise raids. The French reconnoitering parties have penetrated the German lines near Rheims at two places. Elsewhere, in Champagne as well as at Cerny on the Aisne front and in the Carstach section the French have repulsed German surprise attacks.

Washington's View.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Pope Benedict's peace proposal note was not unexpected to the United States nor to any of the Entente allies.

The possibility of a peace move was discussed by Foreign Minister Balfour and Vice Premier Viviani when the British and French official missions were in Washington and it was agreed that the allies, including the United States, should refuse to discuss peace terms while Germany occupied any territory she had taken by force and thereby avoid what the allies considered a German trap.

Now the pontiff's proposal presents the question in a definite light, difficult to meet because it offers the war weary world the hope of peace and Germany and her allies are expected promptly to accept. The Vatican proposal is of a nature calling for a reply.

Diplomats of the Entente circles voice nothing but unanimous opinion that the proposal will be rejected. American officials realize that a convincing reply is required for the world's page of history. That the proposition will not be accepted as stated is certain. That it will not be accepted at all is probable.

An unofficial outline of the Pope's proposal was received here this morning. Members of the President's cabinet said nothing was discussed this afternoon at the meeting but some of the President's official family gave signs of the difficult position tonight. The official text of the note has not yet been learned.

The first appraisal of officials and diplomats was that it was another attempt of Germany, through Austria, because of the latter's close relation to the Vatican, to accomplish what she failed to do on the first offer of peace—the assembling of peace delegates at a round table conference where the interests of one ally could be played against another with the disruption of the grand alliance as the stake.

London Skeptical.

London, Aug. 14.—“The so-called peace terms have a distinct German flavor.”

This is the reply given in an authoritative quarter in London today in reply to the question by the Associated Press in regard to the Vatican proposal. The opinion was expressed that this latest peace move probably emanated from Austria.

SENATE CONCLUDING WAR TAX DEBATE

Washington, Aug. 14.—General debate in the Senate on the $2,000,000,000 war tax bill virtually ended today and such rapid progress was made on the finance committee amendments to the House bill that leaders predict the passage of the bill next week. Senator Simmons announced that he expected to ask soon for a time limit on the debate and to set a date for the final vote.

MILITIA BREAKS UP MOB AT SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14.—After a night of rioting, during which many shots were fired and several street cars badly damaged, State Director of Labor Barney Conen today extended an invitation to the striking carmen and the utility company to enter another conference in an attempt to settle the trouble.

The Ninth Illinois Infantry, which was called out early this morning by Governor Lowden, is guarding the company plants and offices. The soldiers did good work in dispersing a mob which gathered at the car barns with the avowed purpose of following the example of the Kansas City mob by driving the strikebreakers out of the city.

WASHINGTON SUFFS BOMBED WITH EGGS

TEXANS GET HIGH COMMANDS IN THE NEW ARMY

Washington, Aug. 14.—Nominations of nearly 200 general officers in the national army, including officers of the regulars and national guard, were sent to the Senate by President Wilson today. From the 37 new major generals to be created for the duration of the war and the existing major generals of the regular army, will come the army corps and division commanders of all the forces now being raised—regular, national guard or national army.

Similarly, the brigade commanders will be selected from the list of more than 100 new brigadier generals, including Generals Hulen and Hutchings of Texas and Roy Hoffman of Oklahoma.

Concerning the announcement of high commands, it was stated at the War department that a composition of the national guard division of troops from twenty-six states and District of Columbia is in progress of organization under command of Gen. B. G. Mann, now chief of the militia bureau of the department. These will be the first national guard troops to go to France. No discussion is permitted by the censorship regulations of the time or place of mobilization or departure for the front.

GERMAN PLOTTERS HAWKSHAWED BY GOVERNMENT AGENT

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—Lawrence Delacy, in the employ of “The Leader,” a weekly publication and D. J. Harnedy, proprietor of a shoe store, were arrested late today as leaders in an alleged plot to spirit Franz Bopp, former German consul general here and Eckhard von Schack, vice consul, from the detention camp at Angel Island to a port in Mexico.

The men were trapped as the result of a counter plot operated by the government. Last Friday Patrick J. Farrelly, employed here in the immigration service, was arrested on a complaint charging him with complicity in the plan for the escape of Bopp and von Schack. Today it was discovered that Farrelly was a government decoy who had gained the confidence of the alleged conspirators.

Denison, Texas, Aug. 14.—The five shop crafts in the locomotive department of the Katy railroad have accepted a compromise offered to their representatives on Aug. 5, which carries new adjustments and a minimum increase of 6½ cents an hour to mechanics and an increase of helpers and apprentices.

The new wage scale is retroactive to June 1 and adjustments date back to Aug. 1.

This ends the danger of a strike.

More Details Of The Unsavory Mess At Texas Capital

Austin, Tex., Aug. 14.—In response to questions propounded when his cross-examination was resumed by W. A. Hanger, counsel for the governor, this afternoon, Speaker F. O. Fuller testified regarding the contract whereby he was to receive $500 from E. E. Churchill if the latter got the contract to build the San Jacinto county courthouse, otherwise the money to be returned. He said he had no recollection of signing a similar contract for $3,000.

“What was the object of the agreement?” he was asked.

“Churchill expected to get the contract for the courthouse.”

“What did you expect to do?”

“I didn't expect to help him at all. In fact, I did what I could to prevent him getting it.”

“When you first started in with Churchill, you started in to catch him?”

“Yes, sir. That was my sole purpose.”

Several Letters Offered

Several letters were read purporting to have been written by Fuller to Churchill on routine business matters.

“Did you write this letter saying Churchill's recommendations were satisfactory and the county judge pleased with them?”

“Possibly so; I don't remember.”

“Did you present the recommendations to the county judge?”

“I don't think I did.”

“Then how was it you wrote that the county judge was pleased?”

“I said I do not recall the correspondence.”

Additional letters signed “F. O. Fuller” were read to show that the writer was arranging a meeting in Houston between Churchill and the county judge. The witness said he thought he wrote the letters.

Was Grateful to Hanger

Hanger read a letter to himself from Fuller saying, “Words fail to express my gratitude to you for your help” in the speakership race and “wishing a happy Christmas from ‘Your Friend.’”

“Still writing to a grafter,” ejaculated Hanger. “But did you write that letter?”

“Yes, sir; I wrote everybody I could think of, making no distinction.”

Another letter was read wherein Fuller asked for Hanger's assistance in the speakership race.

Hanger thus concluded the cross-examination.

Redirect Examination

On redirect examination by Chester H. Terrell, his personal attorney, Fuller said that County Judge McMurray was his close friend, and one time was his law partner, and had asked him to help prevent graft in the rebuilding of the courthouse and to help him catch grafters. Fuller said:

“McMurray knew of everything going on in connection with the rebuilding of the courthouse. We agreed to prevent a sale of the contract.”

“Did Churchill agree to pay you a retainer to get the courthouse contract and he fixed the amount?”

“Yes, sir.”

“Did you tell the county judge of this offer?”

“Yes, sir.”

“He paid $500 first and later $2,500?”

“Yes, sir.”

“You sent $250 to Hunter P. Lane, Fort Worth?”

“Yes, sir.”

The witness told of returning the money. Asked why, he replied:

Gave Back $1,500

“Because he told me he expected to use part of it in obtaining the contract. I gave him back $1,500 and tried to return the rest, but he would not take it. I started to indict him once, but he said he had a large family and would be a ruined man. He then broke down and cried.”

Fuller declared he finally received not a cent out of the transaction from the county, Churchill or other persons. He also said that if he had to pay the $250 note he would be out $200 or $400.

Reverting to the West Texas A. & M. location, the witness said that before the trip he never promised to vote for any place. After the trip, he said, he told some he preferred Haskell, with Snyder second choice. He said he did not hear of the reported conversation between the governor and Dr. Cooper, the witness having told Hobby he did not vote for Abilene.

Fuller declared he saw nothing wrong during the balloting. He saw no member write his ballot. If the governor saw such writing, he probably was the only member who did so. On the afternoon of Abilene's selection, the witness said, he told several persons he voted for Haskell and then Snyder.

The witness said he did not know who sent the Austin report to the Abilene Reporter that Ferguson, Doughty and Davis voted for Abilene.

Terrell offered in evidence the Abilene Reporter of June 29, last, saying Abilene won by the votes of Ferguson, Doughty and Davis.

In response to questions by Hanger, the witness read the Reporter story saying that “it is reported” that Ferguson, Doughty and Davis voted for Abilene.

Hanger read into the record E. E. Churchill's check for $500 on the Fort Worth National Bank in favor of Hunter P. Lane, which check is also countersigned F. O. Fuller.

“That $500 check was part of the $2,500 which has been paid back?” asked Terrell.

“Yes.”

With this the Speaker was excused from the witness stand.

It was not learned how the accident occurred, but the fall was from the third story down to the bottom with nothing to break the force of it, and it was almost miraculous that he was not killed. His injuries consisted of his right collarbone being broken; the right side of the lower jaw being fractured; a scalp wound on the left side of the head, and a wound on the left leg. He was picked up and carried to a doctor's office to have an X-ray examination of his injuries made, and he was able to walk from the elevator down the hall to the doctor's office. While he was badly bruised and shaken up by the long fall his injuries were found not to have been very serious.

OFFICERS HAVE CHASE AFTER CHICKEN THIEF

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning a negro dropped in at the restaurant at the union depot and attempted to sell three hens, but the man in charge of the place at night declined to purchase them. Shortly after the negro left Officers Harrell and Rodgers, in making their rounds, called at the restaurant and were informed that a negro had been there trying to sell some chickens.

Taking for granted by reason of his having offered them for sale at such an hour in the night that he had stolen them the officers went in search of the negro and happened to run across him in an alley near the restaurant. He was sitting down, and when he saw them he grabbed up the hens and took to his heels. The officers went in pursuit and soon forced him to drop the fowls as too great an impediment, but he continued his flight and by means of some tall sprinting succeeded in making his escape.

The hens were carried to the police station and after daylight a telephone message was received from Mrs. W. T. Fuller, whose husband is employed as watchman at the Frisco crossing on Graham street, stating that thieves had invaded the poultry roost at her home on West Houston street and had stolen three hens. She did not have any difficulty in identifying them.

CASE WAS COMPROMISED AFTER TRIAL BEGUN

The district court was occupied yesterday in the trial of the suit of Mrs. Lucy Baker, joined by her husband, against E. G. Hutchings, which was brought for the purpose of having a deed cancelled, a contract rescinded and for damages, etc. The suit grew out of a transaction in which the defendant traded real estate at Bogata for land in Lamar county. The plaintiff in her petition to have the trade set aside claimed to have been induced by misrepresentation and misunderstanding to enter into it. After the trial had consumed most of the day and the testimony had been practically concluded the parties and their attorneys got together and agreed to a compromise, whereby judgment was rendered in favor of the defendant for the land in controversy.

In the suit of the City of Paris vs. McKnight & Freeland to recover on the bond of the defendants, the suit growing out of the paving of Clarks-ville street, the trial of which was taken up Monday, verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $5,000, the amount of the bond of the defendant contractors that was sued on. The case of Beulah Bacon vs. City of Paris and Lamar county to recover damages for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained while the plaintiff was a patient at the Alkin hospital, was continued by agreement of both parties.

DEPORT MAKES RECORD AT THE TRAINING CAMP

DEPORT MAKES RECORD—Dr. E. H. B. Steele of Deport, who was in the city yesterday, stated that the young men from there who have been attending the training camp for officers at Leon Springs, were expected home tomorrow. There were eight boys in the camp whose homes were either at Deport, or who had been aised there, and out of the number not a single one failed to pass the severe physical test after reaching the camp and none of them were sent back home. They all stuck it out and made good and all of them received commissions.

The clock faces will be electrically illuminated from the inside.
